REPRESENTATIVE

DRIEHAUS CALLS FOR LOCAL EFFORT TO HELP RELIEVE CRISIS IN HAITI

WASHINGTON, DC—Responding to the ongoing crisis following the recent earthquake in the Republic of Haiti, Representative Steve Driehaus today underscored the need for contributions to humanitarian aid efforts. Rep. Driehaus urged groups interested in contributing to relief efforts to contact his office for information and assistance coordinating with federal agencies and non-governmental organizations.

“In the last two days, the United States has again demonstrated to the world that we stand ready to assist those in need with all the resources at our disposal,” said Rep. Driehaus. “But our government’s commitment to the people of Haiti will only begin to relieve the suffering there. I urge all those who are able throughout greater Cincinnati—businesses, communities, and individuals—to help in whatever way they can to ease the tremendous burden the nation of Haiti now endures. I have no doubt that the generosity and compassion of the American people will serve as a ray of hope for a nation in its hour of greatest need.”

Rep. Driehaus’s office has already coordinated with local organizations and businesses, such as P3 Secure, which has offered a donation of four million MREs (meals-ready-to-eat) to help relief efforts in Haiti.

Businesses wishing to contribute to relief efforts should contact Aaron Wasserman of Rep. Driehaus’s Washington office at (202) 225-2216. For those seeking information about family and loved ones in Haiti, and for those who wish to contribute to recovery efforts, information is available on Rep. Driehaus’s website: www.driehaus.house.gov.
